

The Adventure and Environmental Awareness Group are hosting a one-day conference

Values in Action

Building on Good Environmental Practice in the Outdoors

This is a day for outdoor leaders, outdoor and field centre staff, youth leaders, countryside staff and those who work in the outdoors

What values underpin environmental good practice? How can we turn these values into action most effectively? Why are we often so cautious about 'teaching values'? How do we draw the line between promoting values - and preaching them?

Keynote Presentations:

The Carbon Cycle - 4,500 Miles
along the North American Great Divide

Kate Rawles, St Martins College/Freelance Outdoor Philosopher

Values in Education

Eleanor Knowles, Cumbria Development Education Centre

Workshop Choices Include:

Philosophy for Children in the Outdoors/Turning Values into Action/Towards Good Environmental Practice - the Individual and the Organisation / What Existing Programmes and Resources are there?

When: Friday 6th October 2006

Where: Brockhole, Lake District Visitor Centre, Windermere

Cost: £35 to include lunch, conference report and parking

For bookings or more information contact:

Geoff Cooper, A & EA Group, Tel: 015394 41314 Email: lowbank@aol.com

www.aea-uk.org

Programme: (9.30am – 4.15pm)

Welcome and Introduction: Geoff Cooper, Adventure & Environmental Awareness Group

Keynote Presentations:

1. The Carbon Cycle – Kate Rawles, St Martins College/Freelance Outdoor Philosopher
2. Values in Education - Eleanor Knowles, Cumbria Development Education Centre

Discussion Groups: Promoting Values in the Outdoors

Lunch

Workshop Choices from:

1. Philosophy for Children in the Outdoors
Gina Mullarkey (CDEC) and Chris Rowley (St Martins College)
2. Turning Values into Action
Kate Rawles and Chris Loynes (St Martins College/Outdoor Philosophy/Threshold)
3. Towards Good Environmental Practice - the Individual and the Organisation
Geoff Cooper (A & EA Group) and Claire Stott (Tourism and Conservation Partnership)
4. What Existing Programmes and Resources are there?
Michelle Donoghue (John Muir Award) and Tania Crockett (Forestry Commission)

Summing Up – Where do we go from here?

..... ✂ cut here

BOOKING FORM

Contact Name: _____

Contact Address: _____

_____ Post Code: _____

Email: _____ Tel: _____

Employer/Organisation: _____

Please make cheque for £35 payable to 'Adventure and Environmental Awareness Group' and return booking form with payment to:

Geoff Cooper, A & EA Group, Low Bank Ground OEC, Coniston, Cumbria, LA21 8AA